Chef Dale Presson
(aka "Pressoni")

is an enthusiastic foodie with over 40 years experience. He gravitates toward the Italian style of recipe development, seeking the freshest local ingredients, and preparing dishes with simplicity and flavor.

He was trained in an Italian Culinary school in Sorrento near Naples, and might be best described as a blend of Alton Brown, Mario Batali and Alfred E. Nueman, with a small dose of Julia Child.

As a resident of the Monterey Bay Area, he knows where to find his ingredients including seafood, artichokes, greens and fruits.

He believes quality input equals awesome taste, and intends to show you how to prepare a couple of his recipes. Even simple ones can be “better-than-restaurant” served with elegance and flair right at home.
